FORWORD

As our last effort to show our worth and devotion to J. P. McCaskey High School, we offer this book as a shining memory of our high school days. We, the class of January, 1940, are an unusual one in that ours is the last class to be graduated in the mid-year. Herein we have stated our ambitions, our hopes, our desires. If at some time the traveling on life's highway becomes wearisome and troubled, this book of youthful treasures may be a guiding light toward our ultimate goal.

The Council stresses cooperation, freedom, and participation about the school. The organization stands ready to lend a hand to the school at any time and in any way.

The objective of the National Honor Society, as stated in its constitution, is fourfold: "The purpose of this organization shall be to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in the students of the American secondary schools."

Our chapter has shown initiative in all activities and in the maintenance of a loyal school attitude. In addition it has been in charge of the refreshment stands at the football games and has been responsible for the conduct of the study period in the auditorium during the lunch period.

CLASS HISTORY

The day was cold and dark and dreary. It was February, 1937. A group of sophisticated sophomores were meandering toward their doom. From that day on, the aim of the upperclassmen was to prove themselves worthy co-workers of this superior class.

This was the class of Mid-1940. For a time it was a divided class for the boys went to the old Lancaster High Building, while the "better half" entered Stevens.

That year demanded of us many adjustments, but we proved ourselves ready, willing, and able to cope with the situation. Our musically inclined members joined the glee club, the orchestra, and the band; the athletes joined the junior varsity football, basketball, tennis, and soccer teams. Some also contributed to the school publication, then in magazine form.

As juniors, upon completion of the John Piersol McCaskey High School, we began our coeducational training. This year we really began to take a prominent part in school activities, chief among which were The Mikado and the varsity football team.

With our senior year came organization, in which we were ably aided by Mr. Oller. The class officers are:

President	Robert Frey
Vice President	Nina May Meisenhelder
Secretary	Nancy Bevis
Treasurer	Walter Reich
Historian	Joan Pyfer

Our play, in which we were assisted by the class of June, 1939, was a histrionic triumph. Also in this field was Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta "Ruddigore." Some of our number were elected to the National Honor Society.

After the strain of a semester of toil, there came a round of relaxation and recreation. It was vacation time, and our class was well represented at the New York World's Fair.

Then came the final five months. The school was soon to lose us. Our football heroes led brief, but brilliant careers. The Student Council was honored to be led by several mid seniors. After composing our orations, gems proving our rare talents, we held an informal party at Hostetter's Barn. Our senior prom climaxed our social life. It was a gala event, appropriate to such an outstanding class. The crowning glory was achieved at commencement.

This remarkable record will go down in the annals of the high school to prove that the class of Mid 1940, with its intelligence and athletic prowess, moral strength, and radiating personality is superlative.

CLASS SONG

We leave thee now, McCaskey High
 Thou stalwart and true friend
 And all your days of happiness
 Which draw now to an end
 We cherish our experiences,
 Gained here in thy domain
 From loyal praising of thy name
 We never shall refrain
 Always we'll remember thee
 In all we do and say,
 And think of thy refreshing haunts
 Through each and every day

Music—Theresa Eberly

CLASS POEM

The sunshine of days that have passed
 And shadows that mingled with rain
 Through three short years at McCaskey
 We sing in a farewell refrain

The teachers and friends we have met
 Have given us help and good cheer,
 We'll cherish their service and aid
 Through many a following year.

For each will be true to the best
 To our own Alma Mater so dear
 We hope she'll be proud to remember
 Our names down through many a year

We've worked and we've played and we've served,
 In class room and study and hall
 The things we have learned and remembered
 Will help us to answer our call

And now on the threshold we stand
 And what will the call for us be
 As we face the world of Tomorrow?
 Tis service so loyal you'll see—

IT'S THE

Little things THAT Count!

It's the little things that mark the difference between a "distinctive annual" and "just another yearbook." The Campus system of yearbook counsel and production is based on the little things that count—

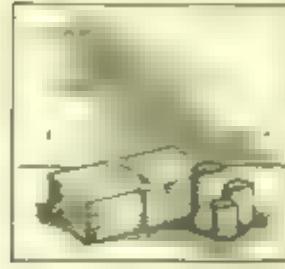

PERSONAL

UNIFORM
QUALITY

TYPE

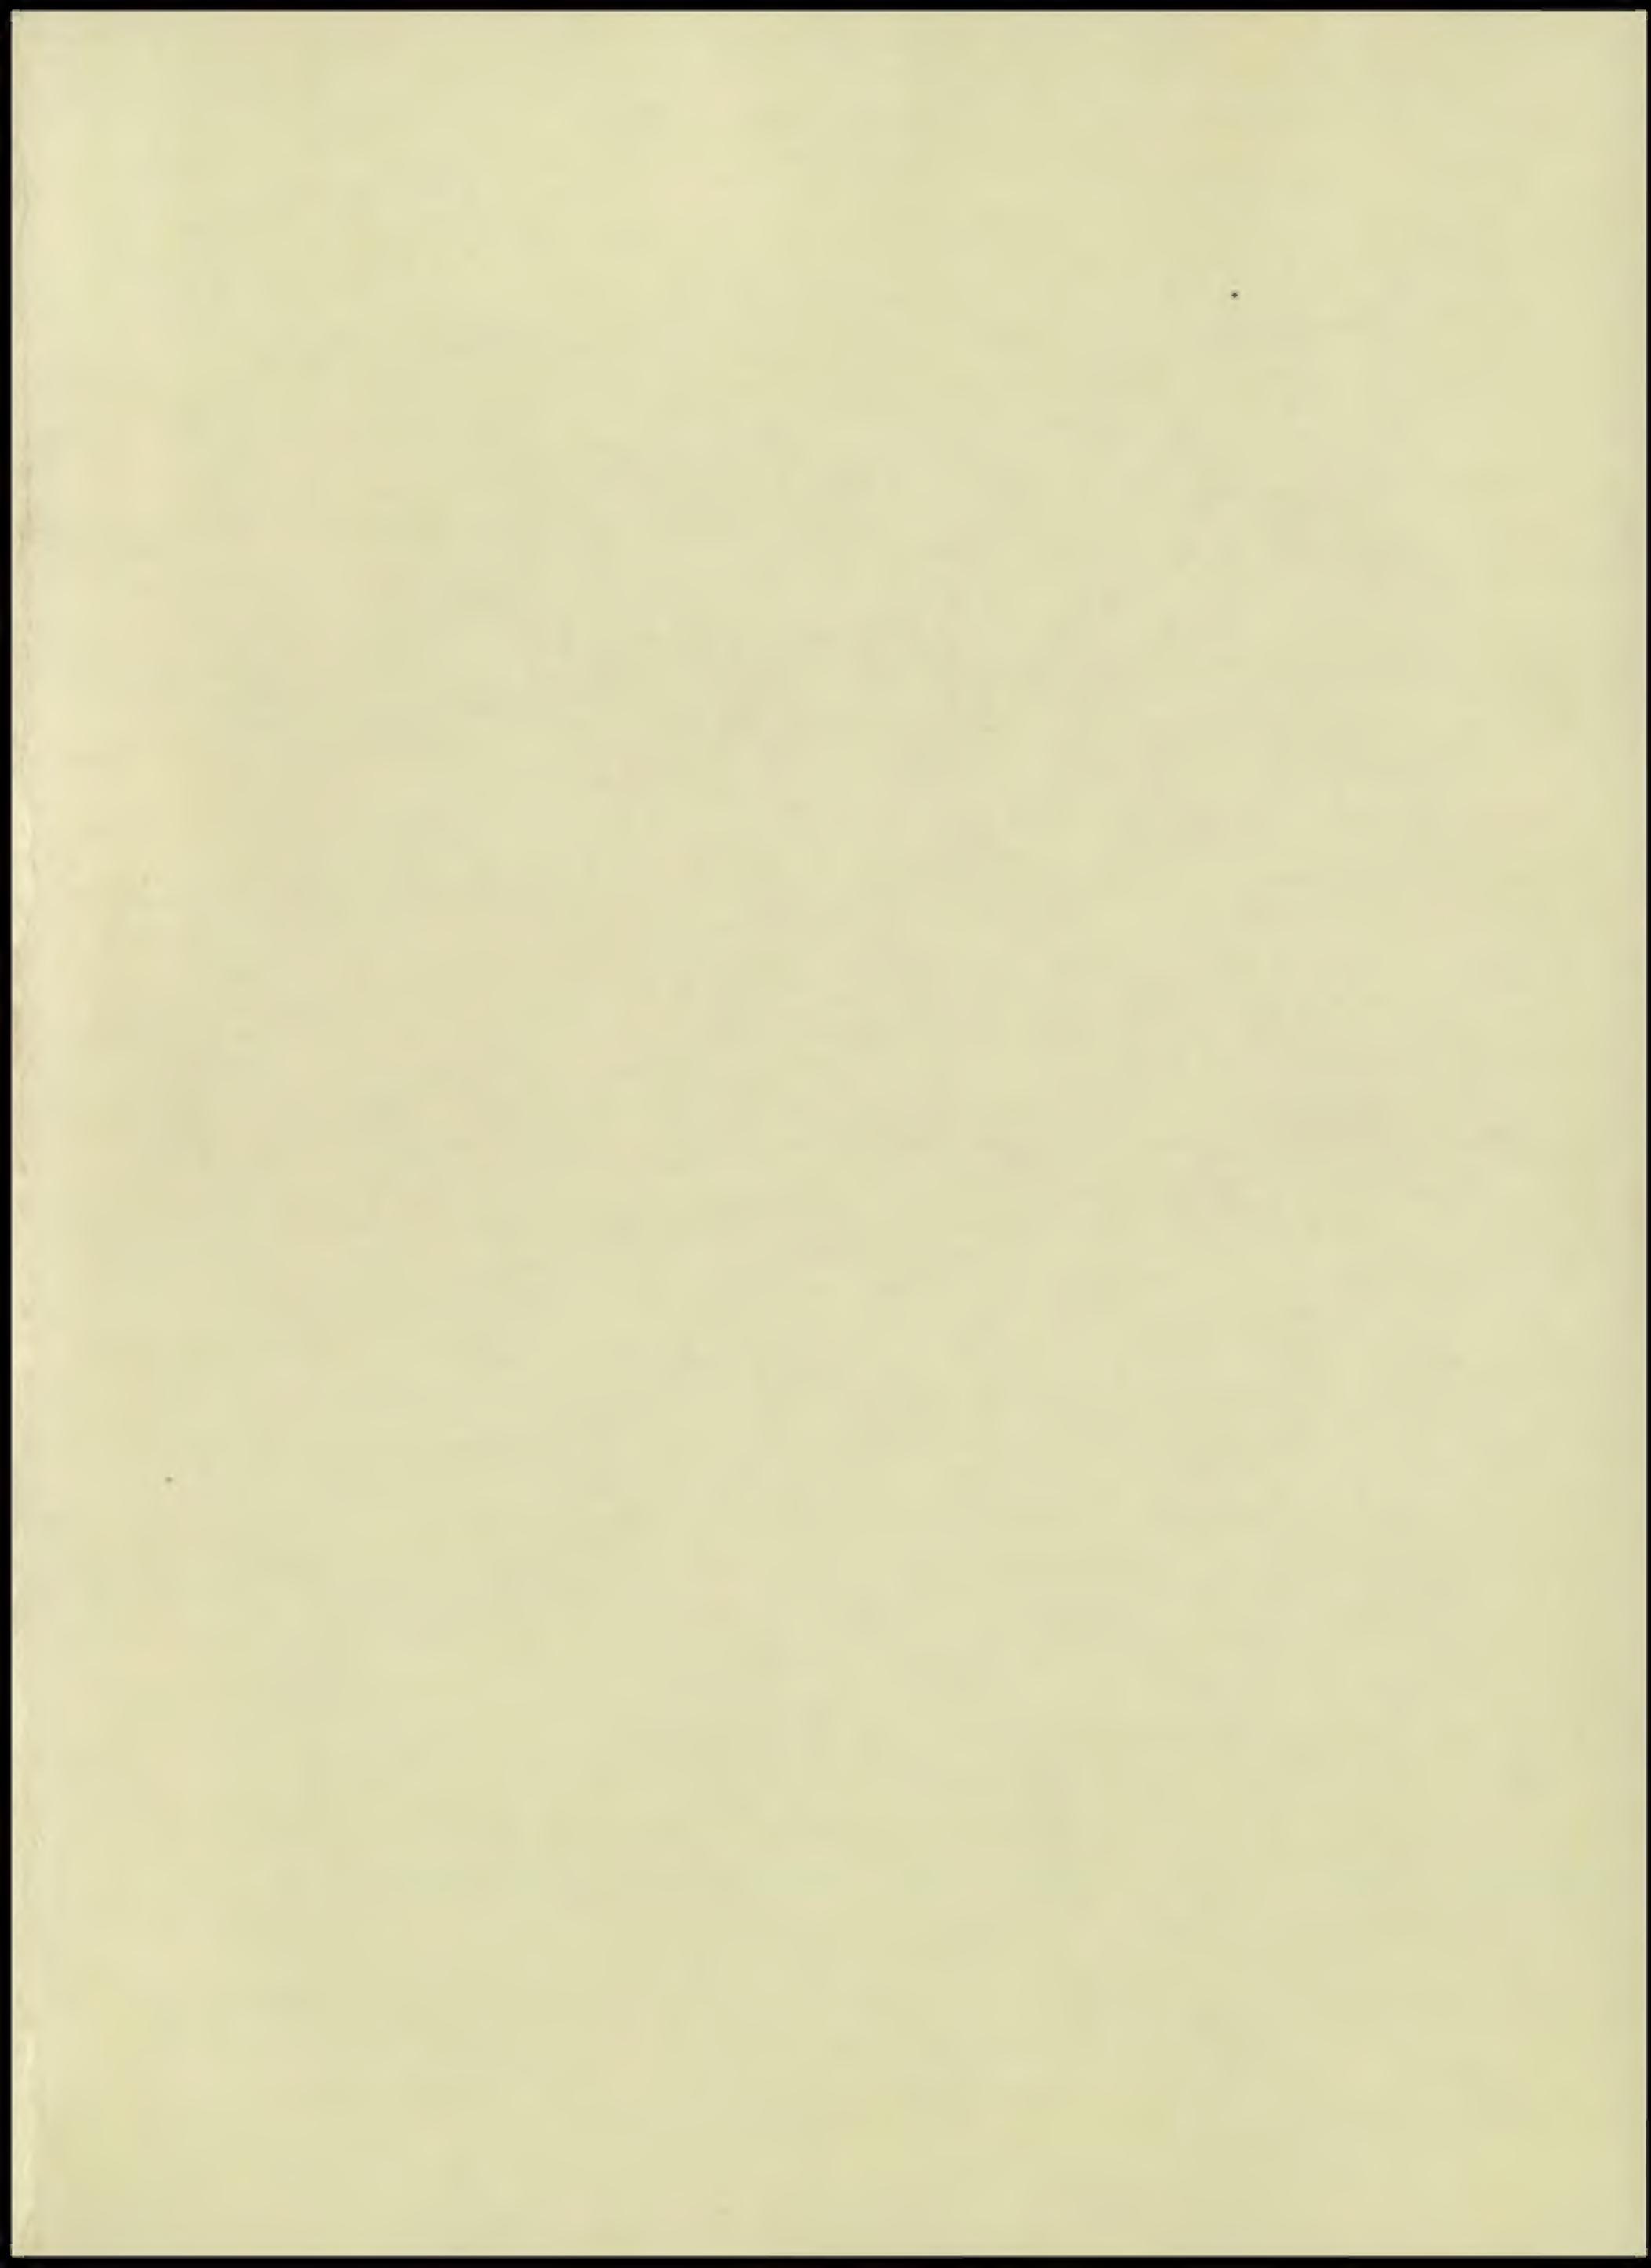

BUDGET

- Personalized attention of thoroughly trained servicemen, former editors of outstanding college annuals, who know the problems of yearbook production—and the answers!
- Uniformity of quality and materials regardless of the size of book.
- A wide range of type faces, and the advice of expert typographers regarding taste, suitability and harmony of types.
- An eye toward proper distribution of the budget. The Campus plan of handling books completely from layout to delivery allows a maximum of value at minimum cost.
